I am writing to strongly and vehemently object to the proposed 2,000 new houses being built in Blean.

Traffic.

I live at [REDACTED], Rough Common and the road through Rough Common is already busy. Adding 2,000 homes will create massive traffic problems for all residents.

Access

The proposed access routes will already create problems along the very busy Whitstable road.

Location

We need to retain and protect the wonderful mixture of woodlands, orchards and farmland - not destroy it all!

Sewage

We all know that when it rains untreated sewage is being pumped into the sea. The water board claims that they need massive funds to increase the sewage plant and repair leaking pipes. 2000 homes will only add to this diabolical situation destroying rivers and sea.

It beggars belief that anyone could have come up with this proposal to build 2000 houses in this beautiful area which will have such a detrimental effect on residents' lives.

I would trust that you would give serious consideration to my vehement objection to this proposal and reject this scheme outright.
