

Alexander Gunyon

From: Jacquie Webber [REDACTED]
Sent: 02 June 2024 21:22
To: Consultations
Subject: Fw: Local plan

Categories: Blue category

You don't often get email from [REDACTED] Learn why this is important

--Email From External Account--

From: Jacquie Webber [REDACTED]
Sent: 02 June 2024 20:58
To: consultations@canterbury.fov.uk <consultations@canterbury.fov.uk>
Subject: Local plan

Dear Sir/madam,

I am surprised that planning is being sought on brooklands farm for 1400 houses, especially as the sewage problems locally mean that it has been discharged into the sea. Increasing the housing locally is only going to put more pressure on the sewage system and likely increase the sewage discharges into the sea.

Also, it is already difficult for people trying to cross the main Chestfield Road, and will only become more difficult with an increase in cars.

Is it likely that it could be used as a solar farm catering to the country's increasing need for clean energy. This can also mean that farmland can be retained for possible future use after solar farm lease finishes.

Regards,
Nicola

Alexander Gunyon

From: Jacquie Webber <jmweb1@hotmail.com>
Sent: 02 June 2024 21:21
To: Consultations
Subject: Local plan

Categories: Blue category

You don't often get email from jmweb1@hotmail.com. Learn why this is important

--Email From External Account--

Dear Sir/madam,

I wish to object most strongly to the proposal to build 1400 homes at brooklands farm for the following reasons:-

- 1) The extra housing putting additional pressure on the existing sewage problems locally. They already discharge sewage locally into the sea.
- 2) Additional pressure on water supply.
- 3) Drainage and flooding problems already frequently occur.
- 4) The good quality farming land. Land which will in future be needed to feed the population.
- 5) Local infrastructure eg roads with additional cars. Problems already trying to cross the road and poor bus service.
- 6) Loss of local wildlife areas.
- 7) Increasing population will put greater pressure on local services eg healthcare, doctors and dentists etc.

Regards,
Jacquie