Dear Sirs,

I object strongly to the Brooklands Farm Development. I lived in Whitstable for over [REDACTED] years, and am now nearby in Herne Bay.

These towns have changed out of recognition since I first moved to Whitstable in the 1960s. So many acres of countryside have been taken over by new housing.

We need those green areas. We need trees, and no more houses. There must be ENOUGH housing around Whitstable now - please, councillors, just stop and think: do we really need more housing? Can we afford to lose even more countryside??

Think of future generations. Think of more people, more traffic, more concrete I say "ENOUGH!" - and you should too.
