I OBJECT

To the Brooklands farm development. There are already hundreds if not thousands of new developments of housing estates being and been built on every scrap of land in and around Whitstable. There isn't enough facilities ie. Drs, dentists schools, for the amount of people now living in Whitstable, that's without houses that are not finished yet. Then new proposals to build more houses etc. More people means more sewage there isn't a big enough sewage plant to deal with the extra needs and sewage is being pumped into the sea at an alarming rate. Making it a health hazard for local people and visitors and potential visitors, who love to visit our once quaint seaside town which is fast losing its identity, with rising population and crime. The drainage on the roads especially the Thanet way between Whitstable and the McDonald's roundabout flood badly when it rains hard for a couple of days because drains can not cope. More concrete, more roads more flooding and sewage and traffic. I love Whitstable but the poor wildlife is being destroyed because of loss of habitat and agricultural land. I love walking up the downs it's beautiful and I used to love walking along the sea front but is it now safe to do so with so much raw sewage floating in the sea. I certainly wouldn't swim in it now. Which leads to lack of tourism. I loved seeing people enjoy the beach family's with their children and the younger adults getting together to socialise in the summer. Or just simply parking up and sitting on the bench at Swalecliffe looking out to see and take in the sea air. That's going to change our town soon. Please no more building on our green belt. I understand homes are needed but we need our fields to encourage wildlife and bees most importantly to pollinate crops for farmers that are left. I OBJECT to losing our beautiful seaside town to contractors making unaffordable housing and overpopulation our town
