Have you tried to drive through Whitstable High street lately?

It is regularly jammed with traffic , full to capacity with insufficient parking.

If more houses are built on the periphery the householders will have to drive in to the town adding to the mayhem!!!

The local surgeries are finding it difficult to cope with the numbers of patients they have now . Schools have insufficient places for newcomers Councils can't cope with the amount of litter distributed along the seafront now. That swath of land proposed for development is a wonderful area to drive by it should be kept as countryside for the birds , wildlife & agriculture.

Any junction on to the Thanet way from that area will prove to be lethal for joining traffic this was proved years ago .
