Dear Sirs

I absolutely OBJECT to the proposed massive new building plan for BROOKLANDS FARM in Whitstable.

At a time when there are warnings in the News of restrictions in food supply in this country, already evident, a HUGE area of good agricultural land, which has yielded grain over many years, is, under the Plan, to be sacrificed to brick and mortar, which risks rain water run-off and potential flooding.

The adjoining field has been home for years to dairy cattle, supplying milk products to our home market.

Hundreds of new vehicles will pollute the atmosphere, at a time when we are all aware of Global Warming.

It is a human right to have recreational space. Many local residents enjoy taking healthy exercise in these fields with their families and with their dogs, to their psychological benefit.

In recent days, many MP's have raised concerns in Parliament about obligatory housing targets and have moved to enable local Councils to relax these targets. The Government has now AGREED that the obligatory nature of these targets be relaxed.

Here is a case in point: the Housing Plan for BROOKLANDS FARM is just TOO LARGE

TOO MUCH!

TOO OBSTRUCTIVE!

TOO DAMAGING!

I OBJECT!
