Hello,

My daughter has today told me about the proposed developments at Brooklands Farm and along the Thanet Way.

I object to these proposals. I am in my nineties and have lived in Whitstabale since the 1960's. The ongoing developments are already having a dramatic impact on the area, we have hosepipe bans and sewage regularly pumped into the sea. How can further houses help?

The loss of green land is heart breaking at a time when we, as a country, need to help support our environment and become more self sufficient.

I have no doubt more houses are needed but the cost of this is too high, regeneration surely is the way forward. Please do not encumber our younger generation with our mistakes.

Kind regards

Allan Browne
