I am concerned by the proposals to build on large swathes of greenfield agricultural land, especially at Brooklands Farm and Bodkin Farm. The number of planned houses exceeds projected population figures. The 'green gap' between Canterbury and Herne Bay is going to virtually disappear apart from cosmetic 'green corridors', 'green wedges' etc. Areas of beautiful open countryside and landscape views are going to be lost. Wildlife populations are going to lose habitat.

In addition, as far as I can gather by reading the draft plan, there is no provision by the council for measures to deal with resulting problems (added to existing ones) of sewage, wastewater etc. pollution.
