I completely support CCC's decision to delete the land north of the University of Kent (C!2) from its development listing.

The reasons given are entirely valid - the impact on the road network, the cost of moving Blean School and mostly the destruction of ancient woodland that nothing could ever replace or restore.

It would also have meant the complete annihilation of the three old-established communities of Blean, Tyler Hill and Rough Common and the ruination of the lives of the residents of these villages.

Thank you for listening to public opinion and seeing sense on this matter.
