Regarding revised plan for more houses in Whitstable. Having moved away because of all the building we are very concerned about yet more houses are planned for what was once a beautiful place. The road at Radfall to Chestfield floods and if a huge volume of traffic forms it will be utter chaos that way...its beyond us why these plans arent thrown out .We are absolutely against ruining a place we knew that was so beautiful turned into a slum of tomorrow houses packed in tightly no thought for those residents born in Whitstable we havent met anyone who likes any of it. Its ruined Whitstable....and if planning thinks its good then think again..having lived in Whitstable for 44 years raised our children there its devastating to read more and more land is going under more concrete...reconsider these plans before people start building and taking away Whitstable's heritage and charm. Think of the locals !!
