I am responding to the following question: Do you have any comments on the proposed deletion of land north of the University of Kent (PolicyC12).

Yes I certainly do.

I agree with the deletion of the Policy C12 and I confirm I agree with the technical reasons previously provided.

e.g.

Impact on road works.

Destruction of ancient woodland and farmland.

The cost-effectiveness of demolishing Blean Primary School where my daughter attended before moving onto Simon Langton Girls' Grammar School and after University.

There would be many months of chaos in an area where at present the roads are already under considerable pressure especially during peak periods.

I believe that the Canterbury City Councillors after considering all their concern plus those proposed by the local community have come to the correct decision in relation to the intended development. The creation of a Blean Bio Park is a much better idea.
