There will be more cars on the roads leading to further congestion and the possibility of accidents putting further pressure on the emergency services.

Water services will struggle. They have said that the drainage system is inadequate for the population.

How will doctors and dentists cope with the increase of people. It is difficult to get appointments at the moment. This will put added pressure on the healthcare professionals.

They have already built on a flood plain so there is a risk of further flooding in the area. When we were consulted about this our views and opinions expressed were ignored.

Where will the children be educated. There aren't enough schools in the area.

There would be a loss of green spaces and to our wildlife. Where would people be able to take walks to improve their health and learning about wildlife both adults and children. It could also help with mental health.

Thanking you in anticipation
Mr Steven and Mrs Lynn Pool
