Dear Sir's

My wife and I object to all the above in the main due to a complete lack of infrastructure for further builds in this area.

In the last 50 years little or nothing has done to improve the following.
Water ( they cannot even control leakage) Sewage ( cannot cope now )
Electricity supply struggles at times. Local highways cannot cope now with the volume of traffic so all in all how can you justify yet another 200+ houses in close proximity to existing properties and yet another 440 vehicles, absolutely ludicrous in my opinion.

Let's take a leaf out of a number of other countries by installing and upgrading the infrastructure we have BEFORE the houses are built because we all know regardless of promises they will not be built afterwards.

I ask you please let common sense prevail here and choose your sites with more care and accountability.

David & Doreen Dale
