I'm sending this email to object to the proposed 70 houses and a traveller site on land at golden hill, the proposed 150 houses on Chestfield road and Brooklands farm. I live at whitstable heights and the thought of having a traveller site opposite where I live frightens the hell out of me. These people leave rubbish wherever they go and most are quite unsavoury people. I'm sure this would cause an increase in crime in this area bringing in those sort of people. We have new builds going on all around us which have made roads significantly busier. It's harder to get doctors/dentist appointments and there aren't enough schools for local children. Kent is known as the garden of England but won't be for much longer when you build on everything green. Please think for the long term whitstable residents who are watching our little town destroyed before our eyes. Louise Aldridge whitstable resident
