Firstly, may I thank the council for removing C12 from its draft local plan. This is definitely both the sensible and indeed logical outcome. I trust however, that this decision will not be reversed for all the obvious reasons that have been vehemently promoted over the last year or so: the horrendous impact this would have on the road network, the cost of rebuilding a new primary school and of course the damage this would have on the ancient woodland and the animals/birds that rely on this environment. The infrastructure in this area will not cope.

On the initial point of the road network it is apparent on most weekdays between 8.00 - 9.00am and again in the evening that the road network around Blean and Rough Common is close to breaking point.
