Dear Sir or Madam

I am writing as a Canterbury Resident to respond to the Regulation 19 Consultation in respect of the draft Local Plan.

I strongly support the removal of site C12 (Land North of the University of Kent) from the plan. I live on the A290 which is already one of the most dangerous roads in the UK (being consistently listed as one of the ten most dangerous roads by the Road Safety Foundation). This road would have been made even more dangerous and congested by bearing the brunt of the traffic that the scheme would have generated.

I was also very concerned about the environmental damage to rare species, loss of ancient woodland and loss of productive agricultural land that the development of site C12 would have caused. Thank you for removing this site from the local plan.

I would urge the Local Authority to also remove the Brooklands Farm development from the local plan. Again, this will cause congestion and increased danger of road traffic accidents on the already dangerous A290 together with increased pollution, strain on sewage processing and water resources and environmental damage to the local area.

Kind regards

Toby Crump
