Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing on behalf of Broom Hill Honey to object to the proposed development at Brooklands Farm and the wider Local Plan proposals affecting the Whitstable and Chestfield area.

We recently became aware of the Save Brooklands Farm campaign online and felt compelled to voice our concerns regarding the scale and impact of the proposed development.

Of particular concern is the permanent loss of valuable countryside, natural habitats and wildlife. Areas such as Brooklands Farm provide an important green space with woodland, footpaths and ecosystems that support local biodiversity, including pollinators and other essential wildlife. Once these landscapes are built on, they cannot be replaced.

We are also concerned that large scale development in this location will place further pressure on already stretched infrastructure, including roads, healthcare services, water supply and coastal sewage systems. It is difficult to see how the area can sustainably support such significant expansion without long term environmental consequences.

We strongly believe that future development should prioritise suitable brownfield sites instead of destroying green spaces and productive countryside. Protecting natural environments must remain a priority for future generations.

Given the environmental concerns and the apparent lack of clear evidence demonstrating that the required infrastructure and protections can realistically be delivered, we urge the Council to reconsider these proposals.

Yours faithfully,
Broom Hill Honey
