Dear Mike,

I hope this email finds you very well.

I wish to lodge my objection to the expansion of Aylesham on the following grounds:

The expansion is in an area of outstanding nature beauty.

It is on a green field site.

The local infrastructure is completely inadequate for this expansion.

From an economic view, where are all these people going to work?

There are many brownfield areas in the Canterbury district which should be developed before any greenfield development, for example a brownfield site near Calcott on the A291 which has been refused consent three times.

On a personal note, I grew up in Womenswold and it truly is an outstanding, peaceful and beautiful area, home to so many plants and animal habitats that will be destroyed if this goes ahead.

We are losing so much countryside in England, it's paramount we protect what greenery there is left.

Please let me know if I can do anything else to fight for the protection our countryside.

Best wishes,

Elysia Showan
